But by far the most hopeful enterprise has been the establishment by employers of industrial canteens, or workpeople s dining rooms, in or near the factory itself. There is no statutory obligation upon the employer, though action in this direction has.received the whole-hearted commendation of the factory department of the Home Office. The earliest and best examples of such restaurants in factories are to be found in.the food industry, but makers of soap, paper, cloth, tobacco, and tin boxes have followed suit, and now in all parts of the country accommodation of greater or less degree of suitability and attractiveness has been provided. This pioneer practice has abundantly justified itself from a business and commercial point of view, and in the opinion of the committee the time has come for a large extension of this method of solving the problem. Speaking generally,...
